DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Applicant's arguments, dated 5/29/07, with respect to claims 1-2, 9-15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 1-2, 9-15, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Jonsson (US Patent 6,115,613).

Regarding claims 1 and 13-15, Jonsson discloses a network node device (see fig.1, element 101) for dynamically connecting one or more telephone wirelines (fig.1, element 112) to one or more wireless connections (fig.1, element 111), the network node device comprising:

one or more connections to one or more telephone wirelines (see 1,2 fig.1);

one or more wireless signal generators supporting one or more wireless connections to one or more wireless devices (see col.4 lines 36-65);

at least one storage location for storing unique information, comprising at least unique service information of service available to each of a plurality of wireless devices (see col.3 lines 10-40, col.6 lines 27-48);

a processor for accessing said at least one storage location and for generating call processing signals based on said stored unique information (see col.4 lines 57-65);

an interconnection switch that makes and breaks one or more interconnections between the telephone wirelines and the respective wireless signal generators to connect multiple co-pending incoming calls for the same single telephone number arriving on said telephone wirelines more than one of the plurality of wireless devices in response to said call processing signals generated by said processor (col.3 line 59 through col.4 line 6); and a bridge that bridges signals from multiple wireless connections for outgoing calls from one or more of said plurality of wireless devices to one or more of the telephone wirelines in response to said call processing signals generated by said processor based on stored unique information (see col.5 lines 5-27).

Regarding to claim 2, Jonsson discloses a verifier that verifies the validity of a request from a wireless device through a wireless connection for the bridging of signals (see col.5 lines 45-66).

Regarding claim 9, Jonsson discloses said unique information comprises a unique identifier and unique service information regarding service available for each wireless device and wherein said bridge dynamically and selectively bridges signals from a wireless device to one of the telephone wirelines based on the unique identifier of the wireless device and said unique service information (see col.3 lines 10-26).

Regarding claim 10, Jonsson discloses said unique service information comprises at least one of service access (see col.5 lines 52-53), priority and privacy information.

Regarding claim 11, Jonsson discloses said bridge is adapted to alter the bridging of signals from at least one wireless device to one of the telephone wirelines in response to a change to said unique service information after a wireless connection has already been made (see col.5 lines 5-27).

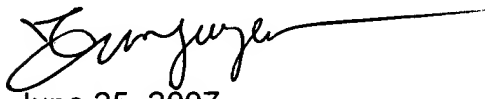

Regarding claim 12, Jonsson discloses said bridge is adapted to deny bridging of a wireless connection to one or more telephone wirelines based on said unique service information (see col.8 lines 5-23).

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Tu Nguyen whose telephone number is 571-272-7883.
